Notes from the Board...

As parents, we all work hard to provide our children with what they need. Homeschooling adds a new dimension to this entire process.

At times we struggle to stay on task and we tend to feel tired – especially around this time of year when we can see the end of the year in sight, but it's still too far away to make us feel relief.

Be encouraged and stay the course!

Place yourself in the hands of God and rely on His sustaining power to help you through. Labor as unto the Lord and you will be blessed.

You will eat the fruit of your labor; blessings and prosperity will be yours. Psalm 128:2

In His hands,
Kathryn Dillow
President

Homeschool Student Achievements

Our cover was selected in praise of homeschooling parents. As you invest in your children and labor in love, know that you are given a promise – you will indeed enjoy the fruits of your labor. We invite you to read about fulfillment of this promise. We have highlighted a few of the homeschool achievements that have been shared with us. It is our prayer that you will be blessed and encouraged by these stories.

Nebraska Homeschool Spelling Bee 2018

We had a great turn-out at the Nebraska Homeschool Spelling Bee this year with a total of 47 participants. Students came well prepared and eager to compete. The Junior Division (1st-4th grades) had enough participants to run rounds for each grade and we had first and second place winners in each grade. Our Senior Division (5th-8th grade combined) went on for several rounds this year. Our Senior Division winners were Immanuel Soh (1st Place) and Agape Soh (2nd Place); both went on to compete in the Douglas County Bee where Immanuel won and Agape placed in the top four. Immanuel proceeded to the Midwest (Regional) Spelling Bee where he placed 3rd, but his story doesn't stop there. [To be continued...]

Our Hope for the Future

Krista Wamhoff, a 10th grade homeschool student from Papillion, was named state winner in the 2017-18 Voice of Democracy for Nebraska. Krista qualified for the state contest as a winner of the local and district Voice of Democracy contests.

On February 2nd, the top ten Voice of Democracy winners and the top three Patriot's Pen winners in Nebraska, along with their families, participated in a day of activities in Lincoln in honor of their accomplishments. Their day included a tour of the State Capitol, an opportunity to observe the Nebraska Unicameral in session, and a lunch at the Governor's Mansion where they heard remarks by Lt. Gov. Mike Foley. A Parade of Winners and an awards ceremony were held that afternoon where the students learned their placings. Krista received first-place and a scholarship award. The day concluded with a banquet and presentations of the winning Voice of Democracy speech and Patriot's Pen essay. As the first-place winner, Krista will compete at the national level in Washington, D.C., in March 2018.

The Voice of Democracy and the Patriot's Pen are annual nationwide youth scholarship programs sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW). The Voice of Democracy is an audio-essay contest for high school students grades 9-12 and the theme for the 2017-18 entries was "American History: Our Hope for the Future." The Patriot's Pen is an essay contest for students grades 6-8 and the theme for 2017-18 was "America's Gift to My Generation." For more information about this opportunity, visit VFW Youth Scholarships.

2018 Used Curriculum & Book Sale June 8, 2018

If you're finished with your curriculum and books, why not sell them to another homeschool family? It's a great way to decrease the clutter in your home, generate a little income for next year's books, and help another family save a little bit on their homeschool expenses. Table reservations start next week.

Homeschool Provided More Opportunities For Learning

By Jennifer Dougherty

Pride and emotions have run high for the last few months in our home as our eldest received college acceptance letters, numerous scholarship offers, and notices in the mail of his standings as a National Merit Finalist and U.S. Presidential Scholar Nominee. Many have said to us, "You must be so proud of him." While the answer is obvious, the reason might not be.

Some might say that we should be proud of the many advanced classes accomplished at home (13 College Board approved classes), or all the facts he learned over the years, demonstrated in high standardized test scores (1590 SAT and 35 ACT). Quite honestly though, it was not the hours of teaching and planning that resulted in success. It was because our son Collin was homeschooled that he was able to learn valuable lessons outside of his textbooks.

As parents, we have tried to instill a love of learning, to teach critical and analytical thinking, and to encourage independent studying. Collin learned from a very early age how to work hard and to sometimes struggle through a concept until he understood and mastered it. Using a variety of educational tools, both online and hard copy, he found what he needed to do in order to complete a rigorous college prep high school education, but more than that, he learned what fascinated him.

At 9 years of age, when our house was hit by a tornado, Collin became fascinated with severe weather and delved into the challenges of predictive meteorology. He spent many hours creating paper sketches of severe weather forecasts, and over time, Collin began to love math. He now intends to major in Math and Philosophy in college. People who know Collin readily understand why he would major in Math, but Philosophy? Well, it is easy to understand why a homeschooled kiddo would choose Philosophy once you are reminded of the subject's definition. Philosophy is the study of the fundamental nature of knowledge, reality, and existence. The study of knowledge – now that ought to make us homeschool parents proud!

Collin Dougherty is a senior this year and will be graduating from Trinity Classical Academy Home School in Omaha. He plans to attend either the University of Nebraska – Lincoln or the University of Texas at Dallas. He and his two younger sisters love to learn and to debate topics from the relevancy of the Classics to whether or not Jack Bauer is the coolest TV character ever. ~

Region V: Omaha Qualifier Tournament on April 12 -14, 2018

West Hills Church 3015 S. 82nd Ave., Omaha, NE 68124

The mission of the National Christian Forensics and Communications Association (NCFCA) is to promote excellence in communications through competitive opportunities where homeschool students develop the skills necessary to think critically and communicate effectively in order to address life issues from a biblical worldview in a manner that glorifies God. (Learn more about NCFCA at www.ncfca.org.)

Speech Events: Interpretive, Platform, and Limited Preparation categories.

Debate Events

Lincoln-Douglas Debate 2017/18 Resolution – Resolved: Nationalism ought to be valued above globalism.

Team Policy Debate 2017/18 Resolution – Resolved: The United States should significantly reform its policies regarding higher education.

Judge Eligibility – Most any adult is qualified to serve as a judge. In fact, we desire feedback from a variety of community judges with varied backgrounds, experiences, and viewpoints. Students rely on your valuable feedback for improvement, growth, and encouragement. No prior judging experience is required. Judges must be at least 18 years old and not enrolled in high school.

Time Commitment – Judging each round of speech or debate is approximately a 3-hour commitment which includes a judge orientation. You may judge as little as one round on one day or as many as your schedule allows over all three days. Complimentary beverages and refreshments will be provided.

Questions? Please contact the NE Judge Coordinator nejudgecoordinator@gmail.com.

Seeking Christian homeschoolers to serve on Board of Directors and in other programs.

Serving others is a reward unto itself. But we want to offer a few more perks to those who are willing to help Nebraska Homeschool support homeschool families.

Board member perks:

- Waived membership fee; lifetime membership for those who serve a term as president!
- TechSoup account allowing you to purchase computers and discounted software while you serve with Nebraska Homeschool.
- Free or discounted professional training with Nonprofit Association of the Midlands (NAM). We're all life-long learners, so build your skills and resume.
- Opportunity to shape our programs. We're always seeking ways to improve homeschooling opportunities across Nebraska. We would love some fresh ideas and folks who are willing to help us "make it happen."

[Board applicants must be approved by sitting BOD and agree to sign documents prior to serving.]

Program manager perks:

- Support from the board of directors (website promotion, marketing, administrative requirements, etc.). We'll do our best to let you have the fun of running a program while we take care of the behind the scenes business.
- Same Tech Soup access as a board member
- Same NAM training opportunities as a board member
- Opportunity to shape the program you manage

Our immediate needs:

- 2 board members
- 1 Network News manager
